PSYCHOFORMATIONS

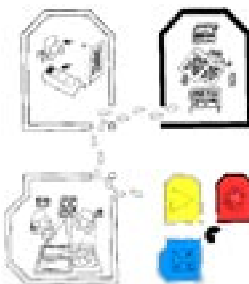

The house
in Cambridge,
Massachusetts
where the model

collage-clinic
was established,
and where the theory of psychic action as a re-creative spiral was linked to an actual floorplan.
The present aim is to re-establish the practice in a new location: a new center.

The three stages of the cognitive process essential to the development of personality are re-created at collage house in a concrete model that provides a path for therapeutic practice.

*"In the collage,
our modern method of thinking, in which reality only becomes understandable when interpreted by human intelligence, is epitomized in an abbreviated model which is itself graspable by consciousness."*

— Franz Mon Prinzip Collage
